Report of Religious Instruction.

Inspected June 28th /22.

The children give good evidence of having been well taught. Their ready and intelligent answers not only showed that they were well versed in the subject matter, but had ability to deduce lessons therefrom for every day life. The catechism was well known, and the ~~expect~~ Repetition work well done.

The tone & standard were creditable and the children are gaining a good knowledge of those principles which make for a Godly and useful life.
